STRUCK BY ELM LIMB.

Raymond St. Martin, 14, May Die as Result of Accident Saturday Afternoon.

Raymond, the fourteen year old son of Wilfred St. Martin of No. 364 North Main street, lines in a precarious condition at St. Joseph's hospital in this city, as the result of being hit on the head early Saturday afternoon by a falling limb from an elm which was being trimmed by workmen near No. 237 Valley street.

Young St. Martin was standing under the tree in company with two other boys, Arthur Boucher and George Mathieu. The Boucher boy's uncle, Henry Boucher, was engaged in cutting off a heavy limb which overhung the street. He called to his nephew and the Mathieu boy, who were directly in the path of the limb, to get out of the way, but St. Martin, who was standing close to the trunk of the tree, thought he was in no danger, and kept his ground.

In falling, the limb struck another, and swerved over to where the boy stood, striking him on the head and rendering him unconscious. Drs. O'Neil and Gaucher were summoned, and the boy was hurried to the hospital. Sunday his condition was unchanged, with very little hope of his recovery.

JUDGE CATLIN DEAD.

Prominent South Woodstock Resident Expires Suddenly at Country Place of Nephew, Famous Sculptor.
Judge Lynde A. Catlin died suddenly early Saturday evening at Robinswood, Seneca road, South Woodstock, the residence of Sidney Orway Partridge, the noted New York sculptor, his nephew, to whom he had transferred the beautiful country place some time ago.

Judge Catlin had been in Putnam during the afternoon to attend to some business of the Day Kimball hospital, of which he was an official, and upon returning to Robinswood had partaken of a very light lunch. Shortly afterward he complained of not feeling well and went upstairs. At the end of the next half hour and nothing was heard of him, an investigation led to the finding of his body on the floor of the bathroom.

Judge Catlin was born in New York, Oct. 31, 1835, and spent the early years of his life in that city. Brooklyn and Poughkeepsie. In 1853 he was graduated from Yale university, academic department, and in 1859 was

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS
CLOGGED WITH WASTE?

It is no longer necessary for anyone to suffer without effort to cure with that headache, all run-down feeling, that is often the result of kidney trouble.

It is no longer necessary for you to contend without treatment with disordered bladder, or urinary disorders, or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff or swollen joints, or the heart-breaking miseries that follow a result of neglected or poorly working kidneys. Solvax is designed to quickly and surely relieve such troubles.

Solvax is a wonderful discovery that has always been sold under a medical name, but now it is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve the worst case of kidney disorder.

Your money back if you want it! It is the way all the best druggists are selling this great kidney remedy. A guarantee like this speaks eloquently for the merit of Solvax.

Do not suffer another minute until you see if Solvax will not relieve you. If it doesn't, tell the druggist that you want your money back and he will cheerfully refund it. Sold in Norwich by Lee & Osgood and other leading dealers.

made secretary of the Illinois Central railway, an office he filled for the years until 1884, when he came to South Woodstock, purchasing Robinswood, which has since been his home.

In 1891 he was elected judge of probate of Woodstock, which office he continued to hold until 1904, when he was elected judge of the Putnam Savings bank, vice president, and a trustee of the Day Kimball hospital and the Congregational church of this city. He was a grandson of Lynde Catlin, formerly of the Mechanics bank, of New York, and one of the most noted financiers of his day.

He leaves two brothers, Dr. Arnold Welles Catlin of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Haskell Catlin of New York, and four nephews: Rt. Rev. Sidney Catlin Partridge, formerly bishop of Kyoto, Japan, now bishop of Kansas City; William Orville Partridge, New York; Rev. Welles M. Partridge of Wollaston, Mass.; and Dr. Charles Catlin Partridge.
